

Phone Conversation with Bill Vogel (Survival, Roosting, and Perching)

May 3, 2018

I spoke to Bill Vogel, Certified Wildlife Biologist with U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, on the telephone today regarding Jennifer Marriott's email dated May 1, 2018. Bill confirmed that he had spoken with Jennifer. He stated how he interpreted survival, that the emphasis would be focused on nests and winter roosting sites where eagles huddle together for protection from the weather. Roosting sites are not the same as perching sites. He stated that the federal government does not protect perching sites.
