Norine,

I'm so sorry for the confusion. This is the project that was uploaded for review in response to a code enforcement case. It is to retroactively permit a retaining/rock wall near the shoreline. I had told you that what they were applying for could not be approved. However, upon review of the their code enforcement file, I learned that they are grandfathered because they previously had a retaining wall in the same location. So, please route the project for review.

Thank you!
